4th Sunday of Easter May 3, 2020

The shepherd calls his own sheep by name.
(John 10:3)

Good Shepherd Sunday often brings bucolic scenes to mind. Picture a well-groomed shepherd, crook in hand, seated peacefully in lush, green pastures, surrounded by docile sheep. It's beautiful, isn't it?

But such an image falls short on two counts. First, shepherd and flock are often dirty and decidedly not peaceful. Second, Jesus called himself a "shepherd" as a rebuke to the Jewish leaders who had just rejected him and cast out a man he had cured of blindness. A true shepherd, Jesus told them, knows his sheep well and leads them with care. And Jesus, the good shepherd, goes so far that he "lays down his life for the sheep" (John 10:11).

We can read Jesus' words here as a course correction for his opponents, but we can learn something for ourselves as well. For we are all shepherds for God's people in one way or another. We are all called to care for his people by following in Jesus' footsteps. Our "flock" may include our children, our parents, or our catechism class. We may be quiet shepherds welcoming a new family at church or mentoring a coworker. But no matter who is in our flock, we need to remember that the sheep belong to Jesus and not to us. He treasures each one of them and wants us to reflect his own love and self-sacrifice.

So ask yourself, "How well do I know my sheep? Do I know the names of my coworkers or fellow parishioners? Do I know the challenges my loved ones are facing?" Sometimes we are so busy with our own affairs that we overlook the hurt, weariness, or fear in someone right next to us. But following Jesus' example, we can set aside our concerns, "call them by name," and listen to their needs. Perhaps we can even lead them to a place of peace. That's one small way to be a shepherd for God's sheep.

"Jesus, help me to lay down my life for your sheep today."

My dear friends,

I hope you are doing well. I'm writing to you from my house in East of Toronto where, like all of you, I am waiting out the pandemic. So far I am well. At the same time, I'm painfully aware of the many people around the world whose lives have been seriously disrupted and who are suffering as a result. Hopefully their neighbours and other sources of help will quickly assist them in the short term. Long-term, things will undoubtedly be different than what we're used to. I pray to God that we will have learned a few things that can make life better for us all.

In order to cope with isolation as we are doing it's so important to keep a daily routine. Undoubtedly, many of you are already doing this. Make a schedule; write it down. Be sure to include devotional practices like daily/weekly TV mass, family prayer. Get a good book and work your way through it together with someone reading it out loud a page or two at a time. That's a model for family prayer. You may not be used to these practices but it's time, just do it.

My heart goes out to you all. God bless you.

With Fr. Glaba's blessing, I hope to write again soon.

Fr. Paul Begin

Dear All Saints' Parishioners,

These stressful times of the pandemic are adding extra pressure on all of us. As always, we tend to address the needs of our physical health with the help of medical resources that are easily available and familiar to us.

When it comes to our mental health, however, we tend to hesitate, hide the truth, resist seeking help, or we feel ashamed to admit to our distress. Although there has been positive awareness in recent years, there still remains a stigma when addressing mental health, and no one feels it more than those who are suffering in silence.

Attached is a flyer from our own Archdiocese of Toronto, Catholic Family Services. Please use the contact numbers or emails provided to get support. We do not have to suffer in silence or alone.

Counselling fees are charged according to a client's income level. No one is denied service because of his/her inability to pay fees.

Some of the activities on the flyer are currently on hold because of Covid-19. However, individual, and couple counselling are provided virtually (by phone or video counselling). Marriage Preparation Courses are also conducted online. For these services, call the number for either the Central Toronto Office, or the North Toronto Office, both of which are on the flyer.

The New Beginnings program (bereavement support group and the separation and divorce groups) are going to be offered on May 2, 9, 16, & 23. The Bereavement Group will be at 10:00am on these days. The Separation and Divorce Group will be held at 1:00pm on the same days. To register for the Separation and Divorce group: <https://nbsdsupport.eventbrite.ca>. To register for the Bereavement group: <https://nbsupport.eventbrite.ca>. For either group, email alimanni@cfstoronto.com

There is also an ongoing "Choosing to Change" program online for men who have been physically abusive in their relationships with women, have not yet been adjudicated in a criminal court, and wish to change. For other forms of domestic abuse and violence, counsellors are available to respond to clients.

Let us begin to take care of our mental health.

Rev. Fr. Andrzej Glaba, Pastor
