*Theirs [is] the worship.
(Romans 9:3)*

All of today's readings tell us that God's salvation is meant for everyone. The prophet Isaiah speaks of foreigners who will join themselves to the Lord (56:6). The psalmist declares, "May the peoples praise you, O God" (Psalm 67:6). Jesus praises a Canaanite woman's faith (Matthew 15:28). And Paul, apostle to the Gentiles, proclaims that God wants to "have mercy upon all" (Romans 11:32).

For the Jewish people in today's first reading, this must have been difficult to accept. They had just returned from exile to discover foreigners living in their holy city, Jerusalem. Their covenant told them that they were set apart as a holy people chosen by God. So how could "impure" Gentiles be living on their land? They forgot that God had chosen them by his grace, not just for their own sake, but to bring his light to every nation.

This call became increasingly clear in the early Church. Initially, all of Jesus' followers were Jewish. But as Gentiles came to believe in the Lord, the Jewish Christians began to understand that God's plan of salvation was far bigger than they had expected. Learning to live and work and pray alongside Gentiles could not have been easy. But they, like us, had to allow God's grace to help them love each other. The result? The diverse, beautiful, sometimes messy Church we know today.

Jesus wants his Church to be a house of prayer for all nations so that every person can belong to his family. He sees people who are searching for hope, meaning, and a place to meet God, and he is asking us to draw them in, to be the loving, welcoming face of the Church. May we always be open to everyone who is seeking the Lord, and through us, may God's grace flow out to the entire world!

"Jesus, help me to show everyone the love that you have given me."

The ShareLife office has committed to maintaining the allocations to our agencies as much as possible for the 2020 year, using our reserves if necessary, to do so. Many agencies have continued to provide service during the pandemic and have introduced new programs and methods of serving those who turn to them for help. More than ever, the support of the ShareLife campaign is critical to the ability of their agencies to live the Gospel value to 'love one another as I have loved you.'

We have raised $91,008.75 thus far, our goal is to raise $132,500 so ShareLife-funded agencies can meet the growing needs; many are experiencing increased demand for services due to the crisis. Please support their work, donating by cheque made payable to "ShareLife – All Saints' Parish" which you can drop in the new Parish mailbox slot OR Online at <https://www.sharelife.org/public/donate>

We thank you for your generosity.
