He shall be a father to the inhabitants of Jerusalem. (Isaiah 22:21)

Master of the palace: it was a sought-after title, and Shebna knew it. That title gave him far-reaching authority over the king's household and possessions. But he abused that power by taking advantage of perks like the royal chariots and even making a beautiful carved tomb for himself. That's why God unseated Shebna and established Eliakim in his place. He wanted someone who would exercise that authority with fatherly concern and compassion, not self-promotion, domination, or greed. In other words, the master of the palace should imitate the way God uses his authority: to serve his people.

These words point to something important about God's desires for his kingdom. He wants a kingdom where leaders don't lord their authority over the people in their care. He wants them to show compassion and concern for their people.

Jesus gave that type of authority to Peter. Yes, Peter received the "keys to the kingdom" and the power to bind and to loose. But first and foremost, he was to be the rock, the solid foundation upon which the Church would be built. He would not be raised up above all his brothers and sisters; he would be beneath them to support them.

That's the type of leadership God wants parents or anyone in authority to exercise. Godly leaders don't put themselves first. They are not greedy for honor or power. His kingdom is a place where, instead of setting themselves up against one another, his people serve one another with love, respect, and honor.

Shebna's story is a lesson to us, especially those times when we are tempted to take advantage of our position. Peter is a role model too when we are tempted to think leadership equates to tyranny. Let's take their examples and learn how to be good leaders in our families, our workplaces, and our Church.

"Lord, help me to place serving above being served today."

The ShareLife office has committed to maintaining the allocations to our agencies as much as possible for the 2020 year, using our reserves if necessary, to do so. Many agencies have continued to provide service during the pandemic and have introduced new programs and methods of serving those who turn to them for help. More than ever, the support of the ShareLife campaign is critical to the ability of their agencies to live the Gospel value to 'love one another as I have loved you.'

We have raised $91,008.75 thus far, our goal is to raise $132,500 so ShareLife-funded agencies can meet the growing needs; many are experiencing increased demand for services due to the crisis. Please support their work, donating by cheque made payable to "ShareLife – All Saints' Parish" which you can drop in the new Parish mailbox slot OR Online at
