*We must celebrate and rejoice.
(Luke 15:32)*

Doesn't Jesus' parable of the prodigal son seem a little illogical? What responsible father would sell off half his property and give the money to his youngest son? And then, having seen his boy go out and waste all that money on partying, what father would welcome his son home with open arms and throw a lavish feast in his honor? It doesn't make sense.

But that's the point of the parable. God's love and mercy toward us is so extravagant that we have a hard time wrapping our heads around it. We live in a world run by the logic of conditional love and cautious acceptance. It's the kind of logic that equates justice with vengeance and fairness with retribution. It's the same logic the older brother used when he confronted his father. Look, why are you being so generous to him and not to me? Don't I get anything for all my hard work? Where's the justice in that?

But God uses the logic of divine love, not human "justice." According to divine logic, it's better for the perfect, innocent Son of God to die than for a guilty humanity to face its just condemnation. According to the divine logic, every sin can be forgiven and forgotten. It's the kind of logic that welcomes the unrighteous prodigal and begs the self-righteous brother to soften his heart.

The logic of divine love tells you that you have a heavenly Father who looks upon you with mercy, not judgment. He sees everything about you—good, bad, and indifferent—and he loves you completely and is ready to forgive you unreservedly. Even if you feel like the prodigal son in the parable, he still wants to embrace you and set a feast for you. So come to the table of his altar today with humility and gratitude. Come and celebrate with him and with all your brothers and sisters in Christ. Let his love fill you.

"Father, I am in awe of your mercy!"
(Excerpt from The WORD Among Us)

Like the forgiving father of Luke's Gospel, God welcomes us home in spite of our sinfulness, and calls us to a life of holiness. Where are you at home? Are you being called to a life as an ordained or a consecrated person? If God is calling you, to be a priest, religious or deacon, contact Fr. Matt McCarthy, Director of Vocations, Archdiocese of Toronto at 416-968-0997. www.vocationstoronto.ca
