He ran to his son. (Luke 15:20)

What an image! You can picture Jesus' listeners gasping at his description of a respected, wealthy landowner, advanced in age, hiking up his robes and running to greet his wayward son!

In the patriarchal culture of ancient Israel, it would have been humiliating for a father to do such a thing. The child should be the one coming to the father—humble and repentant—while the father stands firm, arms folded, waiting to see what his son has to say for himself. Any father acting as the father in the parable did would have brought scandal to himself and his family.

But "scandal" is a good way to describe Jesus' parable of the prodigal son. Jesus told this story in response to a group of Pharisees who were scandalized by his practice of openly welcoming "sinners" (Luke 15:2). It's as if Jesus were saying, You think I'm a cause for scandal? Let me tell you a parable about my heavenly Father and the depths of his mercy!

God's mercy defies our fallen human logic. Whoever heard of a God who runs to welcome sinners before they have a chance to repent? Or a God who forgives sins that we think are unforgivable? Or a God who rejoices over us even when we give him very little reason to rejoice? But this is your God. His love is unfathomable and free-flowing. In a world powered by pride and selfishness, a world that urges retaliation for every single slight, it's downright scandalous.

And it's for you. Your heavenly Father loves you completely, and there's nothing you can do to make him stop loving you. There's nothing you can do to make him give up on you—or any of your loved ones.

So let God love you today. Let him run to you and embrace you and shower you with his mercy. Even if it scandalizes you, let that mercy fill your heart and flow out to the people around you.

"Father, thank you for your wondrous, scandalous love!"

News from Brother Jeff Feldman

Jeff Feldman, a parishioner, since August 2021, has left for Europe where he'll be living his vows of poverty, chastity and obedience, alone, in a rural hermitage in Lithuania for nine months. Bishop John Boissonneau received Jeff's temporary vows, for three years, at All Saints, April 23rd, the beginning of Divine Mercy Sunday. Jeff will now deepen his vocational formation, as a hermit, in the country where the original image of Merciful Jesus was painted, according to St. Faustina's descriptions, and currently hangs in a Sanctuary there. Jeff says that the hermit embraces the whole of humanity in the silence of the hermitage and assures us that he will be praying for all of us at All Saints. With gratitude, he asks that we pray for him during this precious and unique time.
